

About the Authors

FRANCINE BANNER received her J.D. from New York University. She is an attorney and a doctoral student in the School of Justice & Social Inquiry at Arizona State University. Her research interests include terrorism, specifically suicide bombing, international law and capital punishment. She can be contacted at the School of Justice and Social Inquiry, Graduate College, Wilson 376, ASU, Tempe, AZ 85287. Email: Francine.Banner@asu.edu

CHARLES TILLY is the Joseph L. Battenwieser Professor of Social Science at Columbia University. His recent books include Stories, Identities, and Political Change (Rowman and Littlefield, 2002), The Politics of Collective Violence (Cambridge University Press, 2003), Social Movements, 1768–2004 (Paradigm Publishers, 2004), Contention and Democracy in Europe (Cambridge University Press, 2003), Trust and Rule (Cambridge University Press, 2005) and Identities, Boundaries, and Social Ties (2005). Address: 514 Fayerweather Hall MC 2552, Columbia University, New York, NY 10027, USA. Email: ct135@columbia.edu

NACHMAN BEN-YEHUDA received his PhD from the University of Chicago. He is a Professor of sociology and Dean of the faculty of social sciences at Hebrew University in Jerusalem. His studies have focused on the sociology of deviance vis-à-vis politics, morality and ideology. His most recent books include Betrayals and Treason, Violations of Trust and Loyalty (Westview Press, 2001) and Sacrificing Truth: Archaeology and the Myth of Masada (Prometheus Press, Humanity Books, 2002), in which a political myth is analyzed in the context of deviance. Address: Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Hebrew University, Jerusalem 91905, Israel. Email: msnachman@pluto.mscc.huji.ac.il

ANNA LISA TOTA is an Associate Professor in sociology of communication at the University of Rome III. She is the former chair of the Sociology of Arts research network of the European Sociological Association. Her most recent book is La città ferita: Memoria e comunicazione pubblica della strage di Bologna, 2 agosto 1980 (il Mulino, 2003). Address: Dipartimento

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Comunicazione e Spettacolo Lettere e Filosofia, Università Roma Tre via Madonna dei Monti 40, 00184 Rome, Italy. Email: tota@uniroma3.it

ASAF JALATA is Professor of Sociology, Global Studies, and Africana Studies at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville. He has published two books and edited two, namely, State Crises, Globalisation, and National Movements in the North-East Africa (Routledge, 2004), Fighting Against the Injustice of the State and Globalization: Comparing the African American and Oromo Movements (Palgrave, 2001), Oromo Nationalism and the Ethiopian Discourse: The Search for Freedom and Democracy (Red Sea Press, 1998), Oromia & Ethiopia: State Formation and Ethnonational Conflict, 1868–1992 (L. Rienner Publishers, 1993). He has published more than two dozen book chapters and refereed articles. He currently is writing a book entitled Faces of Terrorism in the Age of Globalization: From Christopher Columbus to Osama bin Laden. Address: Department of Sociology, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, TN 37996–0490, USA. Email: ajalata@utk.edu

IRWIN M. COHEN is a Professor in the Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice at the University College of the Fraser Valley. Dr Cohen's research interests include young offenders, juvenile justice, Aboriginal victimization and resource access, state torture, and terrorism. He has co-authored several manuscripts on state torture, terrorism, juvenile justice, young offenders, restorative justice, and mentally disordered offenders. Address: Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice, University College of the Fraser Valley, 33844 King Road, Abbotsford, BC V2S 7M8, Canada. Email: irwin.cohen@ucfv.ca

RAYMOND R. CORRADO is a Full-Professor in the School of Criminology and the Department of Psychology at Simon Fraser University. He also is a Visiting Fellow at Clare Hall College and the Institute of Criminology, University of Cambridge and a founding member of the Mental Health, Law, and Policy Institute at Simon Fraser University. Dr Corrado has co-authored four edited books, The Multi-Problem Violent Youth; Issues in Juvenile Justice; Evaluation and Criminal Justice Policy; and Juvenile Justice in Canada, as well as having published many articles and book chapters on juvenile justice, young offenders, terrorism, mental health, and Aboriginal victimization. Address: School of Criminology, Simon Fraser University, 8888 University Drive, Burnaby, BC V5A 1S6, Canada. Email: corrado@sfu.ca

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

ALBERT J. BERGESEN is Professor of Sociology at the University of Arizona. His research focuses upon measuring the globalization of terrorist events and a Weberian analysis of Islamic fundamentalism. Address: Department of Sociology, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721, USA. Email: albert@email.arizona.edu

YI HAN is a graduate student in sociology at University of Arizona. His research interests include methods, organization, and culture. Currently he is working with Professor Al Bergesen on the study of terrorism and world systems. He is also working on a project on the structural transformation of knowledge institutions. Address: Department of Sociology, University of Arizona, Tucson, AZ 85721, USA. Email: hanyi@arizona.edu

PAT LAUDERDALE is Professor of Justice at Arizona State University and former director of the PhD/JD university-wide program in Justice Studies, Law and the Social Sciences. His recent work includes a new edition of A Political Analysis of Deviance (de Sitter Publications), Crisis and Terror in the Horn of Africa with Pietro Toggia and Abebe Zegeye (Ashgate Publishing), and research articles on globalization, diversity, racialization, and indigenous jurisprudence. He has received an invitation to be a Fulbright Senior Specialist in 2005 for a research project on Law, Violence and Globalization from the Institute for Political Science and Women Studies at the University of Innsbruck, Austria. Address: School of Justice and Social Inquiry, Graduate College, Wilson 376, Arizona State University, Tempe, AZ 85287, USA. Email: pat.lauderdale@asu.edu

ANNAMARIE OLIVERIO, an Adjunct Professor at Arizona State University and the founder/director of the Social Research Institute (of Arizona), has been studying terrorism and the state since 1979. She also conducts research on the production of hegemony, the therapeutic state and women and politics. She has written numerous articles and chapters on terrorism and violence including her book The State of Terror, published in 1998. She has been a visiting scholar at Stanford University and a Resident Research Scholar at the University of Innsbruck. In 2003, she was awarded a Fulbright Research Fellowship to go back to her country of origin, Italy, to continue her work on globalization, violence and the state. Address: Social Research Institute, PO Box 19, Tempe, AZ 85282, USA. Email: pgranna@imap1.asu.edu

ABOUT THE AUTHORS