

Contents

Introduction

Transnational Crime Jay Albanese	1
--------------------------------------------------	---

Chapter 1

Recent Trends in Women Trafficking and Voluntary Prostitution: Russian-Speaking Sex-Workers in the Netherlands Dina Siegel	4
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---

Chapter 2

Commercial Sexual Exploitation of Children: Assessing What We Know and Its Implications for Research and Practice Jay Albanese	24
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

Chapter 3

Intellectual Property Theft, Organized Crime and Terrorism Hedieh Nasheri	48
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

Chapter 4

Human Trafficking in the United States: Uncovering the Needs of Victims and the Service Providers Who Work with Them Heather J. Clawson, Kevonne Small, Ellen S. Go, and Bradley W. Myles	68
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

Chapter 5

Cases of Human Trafficking in the United States: A Content Analysis of a Calendar Year in 18 Cities Jay Albanese, Jennifer Schrock Donnelly, and Talene Kelegian	96
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----

Chapter 6

Mainstreaming Comparative Methodology in Criminal Justice/Criminology Research Methods Courses Rosemary Barberet	111
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

Chapter 7

American and European Paths to International Law Enforcement Cooperation: McDonalidization, Implosion, and Terrorism William F. McDonald	126
-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-----

About the Authors	171
--------------------------------	-----

Index	174
--------------------	-----

